

UV LIGHT FOR DISINFECTION

MAY '20

UV light helps to strengthen the immune system and is also used for disinfection purposes

At VS you can obtain optimum product packages with conventional components such as electronic ballasts and lampholders for operating UV fluorescent lamps used in medical radiation equipment and also for disinfection, as is currently required due to the Covid-19 crisis.

VS component systems for UV Light

- More than 100 years of experience in the development and production of high-performance lighting technology components
- Environmental and cost-conscious light generation
- VS technical customer service
- 5-year VS warranty

For more information please call us.

Your VS Sales Team

